Workshop information Friday the 18th of October

Fashion School Rebel, Tim O’Sullivan, London Design Museum

Taking inspiration from the exploratory approach to fashion design synonymous with the London fashion scene, this dynamic one-day design development workshop will unleash your creative spirit to develop experimental fashion ideas in both 2D and 3D forms. Explore the creative process from concept to prototyping.

Low Waste Pattern Cutting, Future Fashion Factory, London Design Museum

This workshop is aimed at participants wishing to enhance their understanding of zero waste design and zero waste principles around pattern cutting, the sustainable use of materials, and the case for reuse and regenerative materials.

Focus Session - M51 Bomber & Trench Archetypes, Westminster Menswear Archive

Focus session on archetypal designs of M51 Bomber Jackets and Trench Coats. The Menswear Archive have the original 1950s USAF bomber and a large number of designer versions including Vivienne Westwood, Liam Hodges, Jean Paul Gaultier. We will also look at the trench coat as there is a wide selection.

Plastic Recycling Workshop, Are You Mad

Are You Mad is plastic recycling and waste design studio based in London, UK and Los Angeles, USA. For IACDE we are creating an engaging and educational plastic injection molding workshop. Participants will be turning plastic waste into a cool branded recycling products.
